Murder And Suicide On State Street—Girl Victim
Westminster Graduate

(International News Service)
SHARON, Pa., July 29.—A young bank secretary was slain in the center of the downtown district today by a young man who turned the sawed-off shotgun on himself and snuffed out his own life a few seconds later.

Killed were Miss Isabelle Shane, about 21, a secretary in the Mc-Dowell National bank here for the past year, and the man identified from cards in his pockets as Chauncey McDonald, about 24, of Hooks,
Beaver county.

On Downtown Street
The murder and suicide took place on State street and Oakland avenue, in the heart of the downtown district.
A handful of pedestrians and passing motorists witnessed the double tragedy.

Chief of Police William Stuart said McDonald apparently left his parked car and caught up with the young woman as she walked to work. He killed her with one blast from the muslin-wrapped gun. He immediately placed the weapon against his own cheek and pulled the trigger again.

Miss Shane's employers recalled that she had mentioned to them several days ago that McDonald had been calling her and sending her notes. Miss Shane's parents live in Aliquippa, where her father is the postmaster. She is a 1941 graduate of Westminster college.

Renewed Forecasts Stimson May Quit

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 29.—Political Washington was buzzing today with renewed forecasts of the early retirement of Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson as a sequel to the unprecedented attack on him by one of President Roosevelt's spokesmen, Rep. John W. McCormack, Democratic leader of the house.

McCormack charged that Stimson was guilty of "pernicious political action" in writing a polite letter to Republican Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Mass., on the latter's recent retirement from the army. McCormack literally asked Stimson to get out of the war department by charging that his letter was "resented and "deplored" by the officers of the army.

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—A Pitts-

Land Operations In Egyp-

By GEORGE LAIT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CAIRO, July 29.—A force of heavy Allied bombers again have severely battered Axis shipping in Suda Bay, off the German-held island of Crete, the British Middle East high command announced today.

Planes of the United States Army Corps under command of Maj. Gen. Louis Breherton participated in the previous assault against Crete last week and mention of "Allied" bombers in today's communique was taken to mean that American fliers again took part.

The raid on the enemy Mediterranean base was carried out at dusk,
the high command said.

Land Operations Quiet
Land operation on the desert battle front west of El Alamein, the British command said, were confined to routine patrol.

There was some artillery action on the northern sector.
The communique said that air activity was conducted on a reduced scale over the battle area.

Official sources disclosed meanwhile that American bombers participated in the heavy R. A. F. raid Monday night on the Axis-held Libyan port of Tobruk.

Large fires were started in the main jetty area and at least one ship suffered a direct hit.
After inflicting heavy losses on Axis troops, entrenched west of El Alamein, British forces broke off their tentative offensive and today were back in positions held before the surprise attack was launched Sunday night.

Heavy minefields and strong Axis anti-tank batteries made it impossible for British tank units to follow through and consolidate the gains scored by the infantry.

While the British suffered casualties in the two days of fighting, much heavier losses were inflicted on the enemy. A number of prisoners were captured.

"Fire-Eater" Is Severely Burned

(International News Service)
MARION, O., July 29.—Eating fire is a good trick and sure to attract carnival customers, but it is too bad
if the trick "backfires."

At least, so said Sidney Brown from his Marion hospital bed today.
A "fire-eater" by profession, Brown was performing before a carnival crowd when gasoline which he accidentally spilled on his shirt front caught fire.

Brown leaped from the platform and rolled on the ground in an effort to beat out the flames. Spectators, thinking it all was a part of the act, watched with increased interest and carnival employees had to extinguish the flames.

The "fire-eater" suffered burns on the face, head, hands and chest.

ELLWOOD CITY, July 29.—In this grave and serious time when millions of Americans feel that the entire world is slowly crumbling, over 2,500 Ellwood City and district residents paused last night to witness a beautiful and inspiring pageant, "America On Parade," depicting historical events which brought forth memories of the fearless men and women, who in other perilous days gave America its heritage.

With more than 1,100 local people taking part, the huge spectacle highlights the Ellwood City Golden Jubilee now in progress. It is presented on a field stage 390 feet long at the Lincoln High school football field, and will be repeated tonight, Thursday and Friday nights at 8.30 o'clock.

her men who are dying to protect you can bear in equanimity. You feel like standing up on your seat and shouting, and at the same time you feel like saying, very quietly,

"Thank God."

Watching the immense spectacle
you wonder what words would best

Hamburg Is Heavily Bombed Second Time In Three-Day Period

By LEO V. DOLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, July 29.—Royal Air Force planes swarmed over Hamburg in force again last night to bomb the great German port and submarine base for the second time in three days, the air ministry announced today.

There was every indication that the attack on Hamburg, largest seaport in Europe, was equal to the 600-bomber raid carried out against the city Sunday night.

The air ministry announced that 32 bombers were missing as a result of the raid. The R. A. F. lost 29 bombers in the previous attack on the seaport.

The city was overhung by heavy clouds, the air ministry said, but the R. A. F. fliers went down in the face of fierce opposition from anti-aircraft guns to bomb the port from low level.

Large Fires Develop
Large fires broke out over a wide area.

Nazi-held airdromes in the low planes from intercepting the British bombers.

meanwhile blasted German-controlled railways in occupied France and shipping off the channel coast.

VON BOCK DRIVES MERCELESSLY ON

Another Soviet Withdrawal

Fallen Rostov

By JAMES E. BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, July 29.—
Bolstered by a new army of 250,000 men rushed to the eastern front from France, and backed by tanks and armored vehicles in uncounted thousands, Nazi Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock lunged mercilessly toward Stalingrad and the lower Caucasus today.

Driving force of the Nazi offensive, undiminished despite the enormous casualties inflicted by Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's defending troops, compelled
another Soviet withdrawal in the Bataisk area south of fallen Rostov.

It was apparent to military observers in Moscow that Adolf Hitler's determination to take the Caucasus even at the cost of stripping down his defenses in western Europe was bearing fruit. The time is long distant, it was freely admitted, when Timoshenko can turn upon the Germans with the counter-offensive that he plans when the enemy has become weakened by constant attrition.

State Is Prepared For Air Attack

Governor Says Plans Complete

More Prepared Than England Was In 1939 James Asserts

ENEMIES TO GET "DOUBLE DOSE"

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, July 29.—Gov. Arthur H. James today proclaimed Pennsylvania "far more ready" to meet an attack from the air "than England ever was" upon the outbreak of war in 1939.

"We're far more prepared than any country on the globe to meet an air raid," he asserted. "Other than what has already been done, nothing else remained except to perfect present arrangements and plans for meeting a sudden war emergency, said the chief executive.

"The courage, sacrifice and fortitude shown by other people will be just as heroically met by people here," commented the governor. "However," he added, "I'm hopeful that long before that happens here the Germans, Italians and Japs will be far too busy with air attacks of their own to think of us."

Will Give Double Dose

"I think we can take it, whatever it is," asserted Governor James. "We'll give a double dose before we get through with them." Governor James revealed that the state has been able to meet all war emergencies as they have arisen, including the demands of the federal government, despite the failure of the legislature to pass his "war powers" bill conferring extraordinary powers upon the chief executive and the State Defense Council to set aside laws for the duration of the war.

He added that he still was of the opinion that the measure should be enacted. "I can't prophesy what might happen in the future," he stated. Asked whether Attorney General Claude T. Reno had informed him what the scope of his war emergency powers were under the Constitution, and whether he had the right to suspend laws, Governor James retorted:

"Well meet that question when the occasion rises."

newly-won Japanese bases at Gona Mission and Buna on the east coast and the advanced Allied base at Port Moresby.

Gen. MacArthur said that strong Japanese forces are "aggressively pressing out troops in the Kokoda Gap leading to Port Moresby." The threat of the Japanese advance to Port Moresby is emphasized by the fact that should the enemy gain control of Kokoda it would provide them with an airport within 60 miles of the United Nations base at Moresby which the Japanese have repeatedly sought to destroy.

A Bombardment

While Allied ground forces battled Japanese troops in the rugged country of the Owen Stanley mountain range, American and Australian air squadrons kept up a steady bombardment of the enemy base at Gona Mission.

Three heavy new attacks were made against Gona, with the Allied fliers scoring numerous direct hits on Japanese installations.

A second successive raid was made by the United Nations airmen against the Jap-held base of Kupang, Dutch Timor, Jap fighters attempted an interception but failed.

The Japanese themselves were active in the air, attempting a third successive raid on the resort city of Townsville in northeast Australia and a raid on Port Moresby.

The attack on Townsville was made by a Jap flying boat shortly after midnight. Allied fighters intercepted the craft, forcing the Japs to jettison their bombs into the sea. The seaplane was repeatedly hit and was believed to have been destroyed since when last seen it was losing altitude rapidly.

A single Jap plane appeared over Port Moresby at night and dropped several bombs which caused no damage.

The new assault on Hamburg, large parts of which were laid waste Sunday night when the R. A. While the R. A. F. ranged over Germany, planes of the Nazi Luftwaffe returned during the night to England.

A few German raiders appeared over East Anglia and some midlands areas.

Only a few bombs were dropped, causing some damage and but a small number of casualties.

NAZIS BRING UP QUARTER MILLION MORE TO RUSSIA

still in action on various sectors of the front, these new tank detachments probably bring the total number of armed and armored vehicles operating under Von Bock's command to something in the neighborhood of twelve or fifteen thousand.

Not all of these are first-line assault tanks. But in view of the success of Soviet artillery and diving bombing planes in slicing deep into the German attack strength day by day, Von Bock apparently has an almost inexhaustible supply of mechanized vehicles at his command.

Only at Voronezh, where the Russians are counter-attacking persistently, were Soviet successes recorded.

A new German crossing of the Don was made at Tsimlyansk after a three-day battle and heavy fighting is now in progress south of the river.

Reds Take New Positions

Latest reports from the Bataisk area said that during a violent engagement the Germans brought up reinforcements, sending the Russians back to new positions.

At Voronezh, however, the outlook was still favorable. The Soviets, maintaining the initiative, captured more populated points and inflicted great losses upon the enemy.

Last night the Red troops broke through a strong enemy defense line on the approaches to the southern suburbs of the city. After hand-to-hand fighting, the enemy retreated and called up aviation to assist them in holding their position.

On the west bank of the Don in the Voronezh district, Soviet troops are now engaged in attacking the second and third Hungarian army corps, sent into action to replace badly mauled Russian forces.

An official Soviet high command communiqué said that during the last 10 days, Russian attacks against the German left flank at Voronezh had cost the Germans 10,800 troops and 158 tanks.

New Hostilities

Far to the northwest, around Leningrad, new hostilities were reported to have broken out when the Germans launched fierce counter-attacks. Heavy tank battles resulted, and the Germans were beaten off, Russian reports said.

The high command stated that heavy engagements were fought throughout the night in the area of Voronezh, Bataisk and Tsimlyansk, 125 miles northeast of Rostov.

After crossing the lower Don in the vicinity of Rostov and marching on the rail city of Bataisk the Germans have advanced a distance of about 12 miles. They also have forced the Don River below Tsimlyansk to send a second spearhead pressing southward into the north Caucasus region.

LONDON, July 29.—The Vichy radio, according to Reuters, today quoted Stockholm dispatches asserting that the Russians had withdrawn from Bataisk, 10 miles south of Rostov, and were falling back on Kuchevskaya, a rail center 50 miles below Rostov.

The rail line from Stalingrad southwest to Krasnodar was reported cut at several points by German air bombardments and some advance German units were said to have crossed the railway.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., July 29.—Wreckage of a Canadian Royal Air Force training plane which plunged into the St. Lawrence river killing the pilot was brought here today. The body of the pilot, identified as R. H. Bash of England, was found in the wreckage pulled from 70 feet of water by a Coast Guard cutter.

LONDON, July 29.—A lone German raider bombed an East Anglian coastal town in daylight today, causing a few casualties.

Local observers considered it a weak reprisal for the new Royal Air Force raid on Hamburg last night in which 600 planes blasted the great Nazi seaport.

MOMENTOUS MOVES NEAR

tion of the Caucasus is continuing, in all of its fury with the Russians admitting the loss of Rostov and Novocherkassk, and despite the costs of advance over mountains of dead bodies and tons of destroyed tanks, the Germans continue the attack.

2. Rommel's forces in Egypt are successfully defending the precious positions they have taken at the cost of great losses and from those positions his armies still menace Alexandria, the Suez and the entire middle east.

3. The Japs are moving inland from their Gona foothold on the northern coast of New Guinea and are tirelessly trying to penetrate the inaccessible jungles of the island to take the key town of Kokoda from where they hope to wipe out Port Moresby.

Siberia Attack Near?

4. The continued reports from China that Japanese preparations for an attack on Siberia are nearing the completion point and indicate a new far eastern front will be opened within the next 30 days.

5. The Japs are still sitting atop the islands of Kiska, Attu and Agatu in the Aleutians. Concrete news from the fog covered islands of plans to blast out the Jap foothold is being kept a strict military secret.

The first move in a strategy designed to destroy the last vestiges of Nazism, Fascism and Japan's brand of totalitarianism is seen, these observers state, in the announcement of Air Marshal Travers Harris, chief of the Royal Air Force bomber command.

"Scourge Third Reich"

Stating that American and British bombers are "going to scourge the third Reich from end to end," Harris' defiant challenge is interpreted that the United Nations have already completed plans to make their weight felt in this war in a manner hitherto unknown to the planners of Axis dreams of world domination.

This, it is considered, is only one phase of the handwriting on the wall that is to spell the end of the Axis. However, what form the mighty thrusts the United Nations will adopt to crush their enemies and just when it will take place is a closely guarded military secret.

But observers declare that the time is close at hand.

The Parent
Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MODESTY IN CHILDREN
MANY CONSCIENTIOUS parents wholly fail to understand the little child. They read their adult attitudes into him. In nothing else, perhaps, are they so prone to err as in respect to modesty.

The youngest under five or six finds no occasion to be modest in the adult's sense. Why should he? When we grown-ups expect him to observe our conventions in this matter he cannot understand us. Parents of little children, if you are sensible, don't annoy them about modesty. If a child of three or four comes running out nude when you have guests, don't scold or punish him. Out of deference to some of your friends, however, you may explain to your child that they do not like to see little children without clothes. Then the child can learn to avoid disturbing them.

Fortunate is the boy or girl who grows up with brothers and sisters near his age, who in each other's presence from early babyhood were dressed and bathed.

Say nothing to your children about modesty. At about the age of nine or ten they will naturally seek privacy.

All the fuss about modest dress of little children has its source in the imagination of misunderstanding adults. The average child brought up in a good home is wholly unconscious of his or her body, or of each other's. I guess we old fogies are the ones who are most concerned about them.

A list of books to help parents answer their children's questions about the facts of life may be had by writing me at 235 E. 43d St., New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems
Q My girl six has great fear of the water. When the family goes to the beach she will not go into the water.

A Be very patient with her. Preval on her to wade in a very shallow place, later where it is a bit deeper. See that no one laughs at her fear, nor ducks her, nor adds in any other way to her fear. Be happy if you can help her gain courage to wade up to her waist after a dozen trips to the beach.

Q My boy 4 years old has been to stuffer. What should I do?
A Work on yourself, other adults and him for calmness. Read daily to him. Act as if you didn't notice his stuffering. Write me at 235 E. 43d St., New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp, and let me send you my special bulletin on stuffering.

LOOKING At Life—By Erich
Brandeis

When a dress shop as famous as Lily Dache's, and a movie star as famous as Marlene Dietrich, that's news. It also makes the average husband pretty glad that his wife isn't a glamour girl.

Lily Dache, Inc., has filed suit for $4,141 for 80 items shipped to Marlene in California during a thirteen-day period last year. Among the articles was a Persil silver and jet jacket, $650; a Baum Marten mustard scarf, $135; a silver onyxium scarf, $250; a white bugle turban, $150; a grey muff, $125; a royal blue sequin hat, $95; a handbag, $75; and fifteen pairs of gloves at $18 a pair.

Included in the suit is also an express charge of $10.15.

Do you remember your "shakes"?

Here is how he describes a certain lady in "The Taming of the Shrew":

With silken coats and caps and golden rings,
With ruffs and cuffs, and fathoms, and things;
With scarfs and fans, and double change of braves;
With amber bracelets, beads, and all the little trances.

We all the ladies in the Bardes' time had their fashions; why shouldn't her bugle turban be entitled to her bugle turban, her sequin hat and her mustard scarf?

Let us hope that Lily Dache collects her money and that she and Marlene shake hands and become good friends again.

We like to see our movie stars wear things of which we don't even know the meaning.

And we thank fate that our own wives use mustard on our corned beef rather than on their scarfs!

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 8:17. Sun rises tomorrow 5:36.

"Oh mother, may I go out to swim?" the girl asked her mother. "Yes, my darling daughter," was the reply. "You're so nearly naked anyhow you'd look better in the water."

Very often we would rather hear people swear than hear them cry.

Before the income tax came into vogue it was next to impossible for a man to mislay a few million dollars.

Now we hear auto tires can be made out of paper. That sure will make some people be careful of waste paper.

"U" AND "I" IN BUSINESS
When we separate the word Business into its component letters, b-u-s-i-n-e-s-s, we find that the "U" and "I" are in it. In fact, if "U" and "I" were not in Business, it would not be business.

Therefore, if Business is to remain Business, we must keep "U" and "I" in it. Furthermore, we discover that "U" comes before "I" in business, and that the "I" is silent. It is to be seen, not heard. The "U" in business has the sound of "I," which indicates that it is an amalgamation of the interests of "U" and "I," and when they are properly amalgamated, Business becomes harmonious and altogether profitable.

Smaller and lighter automobiles are predicted after the war. They will be smaller and lighter but the price will not be smaller.

AND MODERN VERSE
Do you remember that old rhyme boys and girls used to write in auto-graph albums? It was about roses being red and violets blue, etc. The new version is like this:

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,

IS INFLATION INEVITABLE?
Senator Glenn Tells Us: Raising the price ceiling on rationed goods, on earned pay and on fruit, on necessary and essential items of food for home consumption on the tables of the poor, by the Office of Price Administration, is the greatest of war measures to first one labor group and then another by the War Labor Board is a slow but steady drift to inflation in the United States. And inflation uncontrolled means the end of our constitutional form of government.

Inflation is the most dangerous most pernicious and definitely the most harmful kind of power politics engineered by pressure groups. Unless this trend is curbed at once by popular public demand, you can expect more and more adverse bureaucratic decisions which can only end in wiping out the kind and form of government our forefathers fought to establish and for which our soldiers are dying on our far-flung battlefields.

Real Trend Of War Not Understood
American Public Doesn't Know Much
Morale Of Public Must Be SustainedBy CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Real trends are retreating stubbornly, said a Moscow dispatch the other day, bringing news of the campaign on the Caucasus front.

Chinese have successfully evacuated positions in Chekiang province, related a message from Chungking. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's capital.

"Germans advance with enormous losses," came a British report awhile ago from North Africa. That was farther back than the other two. The Nazis are pretty stationary in that area at present. However, the official version had to discount their progress somehow, as long as they continued to be making more or less of it.

That's how these war stories are related to us. I've no doubt the same kind of stuff is dashed out in the Berlin press and to Rome and Tokyo.

The idea is to sustain national morale on whichever side it requires sustenance. The only trouble with it is that it reciprocally is so nonsensical. Retreating stubbornly, but successful! Advancing with enormous losses! But an advance accompanying 'em.

The fact is that heaven alone knows how the war's developing. No, maybe, besides heaven, the actual fighters know. But the conflicting countries, various respective civilian public's don't.

I. S. Public Up In Air
The American public doesn't, any way. European and Asiatic publics probably have quite as inkling. They're on short rations already. Think of Germany without beer! Think of England with only one cup of tea per person.

It's starting to hit us too, though. I guess I don't realize it, not being an automobiler. Rubber and wax are immaterial to me.

Yet there are forms of food that I'm addicted to, and will I be able to keep on getting 'em? My sewing apparatus is almost worn out also. Will there be more available? And fuel, as the weather cools off?

Which it costs, I'd like to know. It would pay me to do my buying now in anticipation of a price hike, but it's an identical rule that applies to EVERYTHING, my prospective overseas trip included. I've got to give up my habits, but I've got grand-children.

And these grand-children I've got to contribute to in Mexico City, in the United States diplomatic service.

I'm surely all around, so to speak, pretty anxious.

Well, what I'm saying is that we don't know what we're getting. Even the automobiler will sense it.

I was over in England during the last World War. It was lousy. You came pretty close to being hungry. At best you were uncertainable. Here it wasn't so bad, but we didn't take that war seriously. We didn't exaggerate it. It's anything. We've got that old road complex in checked. I'm no more afraid of an air raid than I am of an earth quake, but everybody else is. Where I live isn't an earthquake region.

The wind is fair, the Bishop said. The lake is smooth, the boats at hand.

The sky is gentle overhead. Let's quit our larks and quit the land. Let's lily watch the morning pass. And incidentally fish for bass.

Three hundred sixty-five the days are bundled in a single year. And fifty-two we give to praise. The Lord above who sent us here. But of the others as you know. The most to care and duty go.

Surely twill not be judged amiss. Or charged as sinful should we rise. To steal so fine a day as this. And quit it in an open boat. I'd quit the daisies, you the pen. Today we'll just be fishermen.

NOTHING WITHOUT WORK

It is amazing how many special writers for newspapers and magazines seem to write as if they had never much the same opinion of the New Dealers which I myself have. Merle Thorpe is another of these writers and in Nations Business he has much to say regarding the idealists surrounding the present administration.

He calls attention to the fact that one of the greatest slanders of our age is the charge that the present administration is the American political system was Alexis de Tocqueville. His Democracy in America is a text book. He also made a searching analysis of the causes which paved the way for the French Revolution.

The point in Thorpe's essay as you might call it, that strikes me most timely is this:

"How came it that liberal, unpopulated administrative boards and found themselves the strangers to government, molding unreservedly in abstract and general theories of government. They had no practical acquaintance with the subject, their advice was undampened by actual experience. They knew of no existing facts which stood in the way of desirable reforms."

Our literary men, brain trusters, contrite administrative boards in Washington today, from W. L. R. to C. E. D. In addition they must on the thirty-five federal agencies now engaged in planning the New World Order which is to follow the war. Their charts, graphs, social blueprints and prospective administrative innovations are measured by the cubic yard.

If, for example, the public remains skeptical as to the need of more rationing, it is because it does not understand the Plan. The Plan is to deprive people of things and then build up a bank of values and demands when peace comes. So the vagaries of the spending program of taxation, social service, labor policies, come from the boys whose actions are undampened by actual experience, and who know of no existing facts which stand in the way of desirable reforms.

Meaning, they don't know that some damn good revolutions have been built on banks of values.

Those thirty-five agencies rich with a new blueprint every hour, they compare with the ancient commonplaces of M. A. Thoreau. Each plan, like those of Mussolini, Hitler, Blum and Lenin, holds great promise for everybody at some future five or ten-year period, only central employment for all, homes and clothes and food in abundance, peace on earth, everlasting justice and happiness and heaven and so on.

Opinion

Mohandas K. Gandhi is trying to straddle the fence in a starved street.

He doesn't like the British and he doesn't like the Japs too.

He doesn't want to run with the hares or race with the hounds. He wants to walk in the middle.

He hasn't heard that middlemen are being strangled.

He is trying to exercise freedom of the ballot in a one-way voting booth.

Gandhi wants to remove the man of India from the list of available meeting places for the sure to come British-Japanese convention.

He couldn't wish a fox on both of their houses and hopes it will bark off immediately.

When the shooting starts, Gandhi will close his eyes and ears. His mouth will say "They can't do this to me."

But they'll be doing it.

Local Brothers See Action In Big U. S. Fights

One Missing in Corregidor Battle; Other Faces Japs At Midway And Coral Sea

One New Castle family has given and is giving a lot to the war effort of the United States. With two sons in the services, one a sailor and the other a soldier, the John Marcella family of 19 South Front street watch every bit of war news. The older, Frank Marcella, is a U. S. machinist mate, first class in the U. S. navy. He is spending a few days at home after being in both the Coral sea and Midway naval battles. The younger is Corporal John Marcella of the army and he has been reported missing at Corregidor after the fall of that huge fortress which fought so well and so long against overwhelming odds. Frank has been in the navy for ten years. He enlisted at the New Castle recruiting station and took "boot" training at Great Lakes, Ill. Assignments to the battleship Arizona and the cruiser San Francisco followed. In 1939 he was ordered to duty with the Asiatic squadron and traveled far and wide in those perilous days when peace hung by a mere thread in the Far East.

Early in 1941, Marcella was ordered to duty with the Pacific fleet and after the declaration of war got in the battles of Midway and Coral sea. Due to naval regulations, he could say very little about the fight except that "the Japs were tough but we were tougher."

He told how he and his army brother, John, used to scrap over the relative merits of the army and navy. "It always ended in a draw," he recalled, "but it doesn't make any difference now. We're fighting the same enemy no matter what service we're in."

He said that John had been in the army for four years and he looked a little worried when he mentioned that John was missing. "Everything went all right and he knew that 'John gave them plenty of hell before he was captured'."

ELLWOOD THRILLED BY HUGE PAGEANT OF GOLDEN JUBILEE

formations are performed by 80 girls in red, white and blue costumes. As dozens of boy and girl Scouts pledge allegiance to the flag presented by scouts and American Legion post, a vested choir of 150 of Ellwood's best voices sings "America."

While not concerned with tanks and bombers and guns, but with such things as the founding and growth of the new country, the moving spectacle brought forth a clear conception of the thing that American boys are going to protect, a conception that sometimes becomes blurred.

Crown Queens

Following the Parade of Colors, Miss Mildred Rhea, as Miss Ellwood City, and Miss Phyllis Duncan, as Miss Columbia, were crowned by Judge W. Walter Brahm of New Castle. Other Ellwood queens were their attendants.

The wonder story of America's beginning follows with Columbus at Queen Isabella's court in Spain after which he is shown arriving at the small island of San Salvador where he is met by a band of surprised Indians.

Next, the Pilgrims land at Plymouth Rock and with it is shown a typical band of Indians setting up a temporary camp. George Washington at Fort Duquesne is the next scene, after which he is shown at Hazel Dell where he is reported to have travelled in his early surveying work.

The famous midland ride of Paul Revere, who rallied the volunteer army which took part in the Revolutionary War, was portrayed, and then the signing of the Declaration of Independence. George Washington is pictured taking the oath of office as the first president of the United States.

Expansion Movement

After the Revolution there was a westward expansion movement, and the scene enacted is a typical group of pioneers bringing with them all their world belongings. Oxen, horses, covered wagons, clothes of the time, and amusing things that happened in those days, made the scene one of the best in the pageant.

As soon as the settlement was established a little school was opened and this scene was a typical one.

A tableau, Pickett's charge at Gettysburg, was one of the best enacted. The deliverance of Lincoln's Gettysburg address was one of the most solemn scenes and the one that held the huge crowd in a hushed silence was the death of Lincoln. Emulating the scene at the death of the great emancipator, a group of Ellwood Negro voices sang spirituals. It was truly touching and was a scene that will be long remembered.

After the reconstruction period came the railroad era. A replica of the first Baltimore & Ohio train, with its initial run in 1833, was shown with actors riding in the antiquated "passenger" car. Progress to the present day was shown by a Capitol Streamliner, the B. & O.'s latest train. A nature ballet following the scene showing the founding of Ellwood.

Horse And Buggy Days

Pompadors and the handle-bar mustaches, the beginning of the end of the horse and buggy days, and the coming of the automobile were the highly amusing features of the Gay Nineties scene. Four antique cars were driven on their own power about the stage, with one, of course, having the familiar tire and engine trouble much to the consternation of the driver, who was advised by horse and buggy devotees "to leave the thing alone before somebody got hurt."

Tribute was paid to the men who died in World War One. The Roaring Twenties was a scene of bootlegging and false prosperity that ended with the crash and panic of 1929.

Since industry plays a vital part of the growth of Ellwood, representatives of the main industries all working for the defense of America, were shown. A robot drill of the interpretation of the grind, the drive, the power behind the American victory effort was one of the best executed of the entire performance.

Grand Finale

The grand finale was the appearance of the entire cast of more than 1100 people including the enthroned queen and her attendants, and it was a spectacle of real beauty. Again was the parade of colors as a group of Girl Scouts formed with banners the words U. S. A., and then an American flag while the chorus sang the Star-Spangled Banner. A prayer of benediction most effectively and impressively closed the pageant.

A gorgeous display of fireworks followed, opening with the words, "W. Offutt, chairman, Ellwood City Golden Jubilee." Along with multi-colored rockets were patriotic scenes.

Each scene in the pageant was interpreted by a group of narrators who unaffected handling of the scenes added much to the solemnity of some parts and hilarity to others.

The entire pageant was a delightful synchronization of color, lighting, sound and costumes, and meriting in particular any of the dances, drills, or acting as outstanding would be unfair. They were all wonderful. That also included the chorus, which provided effective background music. The high school band also took part in the opening and closing patriotic ceremonies.

Joint Chest-War Fund Campaign Here Weighed

Consideration was given last night by the New Castle Community Chest board of directors to a combined Community Chest and War Fund campaign for the city, but a definite decision on the proposal was held over until later.

The board convened in the Castleton. The next meeting, President Marshall G. Murphy said, will be held "within the near future."

Speakers Boost Plan

The cause of a combined campaign was championed by Andrew Fleming, secretary-manager of the Community Corporation of Youngstown. He said the united drive would be more fitting to the times.

Speaking for the Navy Relief society, one of the groups which would be included in such a campaign, was Morgan B. Schiller, president of the American Tubular Elevator Co., Pittsburgh, and long a leader in the navy organization affairs.

Schiller was introduced by his close friend, Alex Crawford Hoyt, president of the First National Bank of Lawrence County and the Union Trust Co.

The informal discussion last night continued for over two hours, and President Matheny indicated today formal action would come soon.

Agencies Still Considering Considerable favorable opinion was expressed toward the united drive, but some of the agency boards still are giving the matter further study, it was understood.

If approved, leaders explained the joint campaign would unite the annual Chest drive in the fall with the appeals of a group of war organizations like the Navy Relief society and others.

Roger W. Rowland, head of Lawrence County's successful drive in behalf of the United Service Organizations, was present for the discussion last night.

'Nurses Aides' At Jameson Hospital Get Caps Tuesday

First Class Of Nurses Aides Receive Caps; Mrs. Travis French Is Instructor

"Nurses Aides" has proven a happy medium of meeting the present wartime shortage of nurses in hospitals throughout the country, and on Tuesday afternoon, July 28, Jameson Memorial hospital capped their first class of these capable young women, numbering thirty-eight out of a class of forty-four. They have successfully completed their twenty hours of class study and two months of practical work under the supervision of Mrs. Travis French, instructor.

Miss Prudence Appleman, director of nurses at Jameson Memorial hospital, was introduced by Mrs. French as speaker at the capping ceremony, which took place at 3 o'clock in the Nurses' home. Miss Appleman gave an inspiring talk to the young ladies, relating the interest they have shown, and told of the desire and loyalty to do their part in aiding human suffering, especially during this war emergency period. She praised the group for their perseverance and for their pledge to carry on.

Upon being capped by Mrs. French with Miss Appleman assisting, the girls joined in repeating the Florence Nightingale pledge, with Mrs. French leading. The ceremony closed with all joining in singing a patriotic selection, with piano accompaniment.

Mrs. French who has met with much success in instructing the "Nurses Aides," will be leaving Saturday to join her husband, First Lieutenant Travis French, who is stationed with the Medical corps at Richmond, Va., in the services of the United States army.

As an expression of appreciation for the friendly guidance given by both Mrs. French and Miss Appleman, the class remembered each with personal gifts, the presentations being made by Phyllis Latiano and Lucy Massone, respectively. Those receiving their caps yesterday follow: Esther Bloom, Charlotte Bremer, Theresa Canani, Dorothy Cerrell, Jennie Cerrell, Carolyn Cherzoff, Marie Conit, Ruth Cox, Louise Duckworth, Betty Duncan, Catherine Elisco, Marian Fair, Dorothy Fehrenbach, Dorothy Gallo, Clara Gallo, Edith Hares, Ethel Hares, Jane Hartford, Dorothy Heller, Mary Hiller, Helen Huston, Edith Jones, Phyllis Latiano, Mary McKim, Lucy Mussone, Grace Paden, Sophie Pagley, Dorothy Pritchard, Martha Rand, Aleta Riddle, Betty Ruby, Geraldine Smiley, Hazel Smith, Madge Stickle, June Stokes, Georgia Thomas and Mary Jane Wolfe.

Others who will receive their caps at the next ceremony not having quite completed their training are Anna Marie Delandoro, Thelma Stewart, Marjorie Sibert, Fred Ogden, Mae DeLorenzo and Marian Benedict.

There being such a great demand for "Nurses Aides" to relieve registered nurses to serve in the U. S. Armed forces, classes will be carried on periodically, for those to serve on the home front. While high school graduates are preferred, others of the same age and older, including married women who can give time to this worthy cause, are asked to enroll at the hospital where they will be assigned class work and receive instruction.

Dues Collecting Pickets At Plants

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, July 29.—CIO dues pickets crowded around the gates of Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation mills in both Pittsburgh and Aliquippa today, preventing about 170 employees from working on vital war materials.

At Aliquippa, where the steel firm's main works are centered, 160 men were kept out, a spokesman for the company said. Of these, 31 were girl sorters in the tin mill and some complained that they were "forcibly stopped" from entering the plant, he added.

Dues pickets, affiliated with the CIO-United Steelworkers of America, halted 10 more at the Pittsburgh mill gate.

Pleasure Craft Ban On Rivers Is Recommended

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 29.—Local river interests recommended today that pleasure craft be banned from the Monongahela river for the duration to speed up traffic and close off a possible avenue of sabotage.

William B. Rodgers, in behalf of the Pittsburgh Coal Exchange and its members, wrote Ross L. Leffler, chairman of the Allegheny County of defense.

"Considerable time is being lost in the transportation of war materials by the frequent lockages of small pleasure craft," Rodgers advised Leffler in his letter. "In addition pleasure boats and persons swimming from pleasure boats anchored in the channels are obstructing navigation, often causing towboats to stop entirely to avoid accidents."

"The danger of sabotage from persons in small boats is very great. It would be a simple task for an enemy agent, operating from a pleasure boat, to dump acid into the intake of one of the vital war plants. It would be equally easy for such a person to blow up a dam power plant or bridge by the use of a small boat."

Rodgers suggested that Leffler, as chairman of defense, appeal to Col. Herbert D. Vogel, U. S. district engineer, to limit river traffic to commercial and government-owned boats.

YWCA Outlines War Needs Program

National Board Submits War Program To War Chests Of The Country

A four-point war-needs program, estimated to cost $500,000 for a sixteen-month period, has been submitted to the war chests of the country by the National Board of the Young Women's Christian association.

The program, as outlined by Mrs. Henry A. Ingraham, board president, would meet the emergency problems of American women and girls, help evacuees and refugees in the United States, continue aid to war victims in occupied countries and reinforce the work the Y. W. A. is now doing in Great Britain, China, the Middle East and other war areas.

High on the list of essential war services, Mrs. Ingraham placed war production workers in selected boom towns and overburdened communities. Second on the list, Mrs. Ingraham said, would come the teen-age girl.

Also, there are the refugee women who have found their way to this country in the wake of Hitler's holocaust of terror.

These women come to ask advice on how to do things in a land that is new and strange to them. They show much ingenuity in meeting their own financial problems. Most of the women refugees are eager to have some share in defense activities, trying to make the people of the United States understand more clearly what loss of personal liberty means.

This refugee service of the Y. W. A. is a part of the War-Needs program in which it expects to spend half a million dollars during 1942 and 1943.

Ban Deliveries Of Fuel Oil For Some Purposes

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 29.—The war production board today banned deliveries of fuel oil for the operating of heating and cooling equipment from August 3 to September 15 along the Atlantic seaboard in order to build up reserve stocks for next winter's needs.

The action was taken at the request of Oil Coordinator Ickes and applies to private homes as well as public buildings and industries.

News Briefs From City Hall

Police of this district, the same as those elsewhere throughout the United States are keeping an eye alert for possible saboteurs and others who might do acts contrary to the welfare of the country and the proper prosecution of the war.

Police authorities today were investigating the reported parking of a car with a flat tire, for several days, in Sampson street. It is a Pontiac.

Acting Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell today stated that there is an ordinance against anyone shooting within the city limits.

OCD Chief Air Raid Warden Frank Sargent today stated that the same regulations concerning blackouts in business houses apply to residences, so the tip is: "If house occupants are going to be out at night, extinguish all lights." Some-one must be present to turn them off immediately if an air raid is sounded and lights are on. Business houses must have a black-out switch outside of building or a watchman inside.

A "temporary building," in Washington, is an ugly structure put up for war workers and inherited by a new bureau after the war.

Gas Rationing Forces 800,000 Cars In Storage

Figures According To OPM
Estimate Of Drop In Car
Usage In 17 States

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 29.—The Office of Price Administration yesterday estimated that nearly 800,000 motorists in the gasoline rationed east have stored their cars and taken to walking or other forms of transportation.

The estimate was based on reports from five of the 17 rationed Atlantic seaboard states on the number of basic "A" ration books issued under the permanent gasoline rationing program.

Preliminary returns showed that the number of "A" coupon books issued was approximately 10 per cent less than the number of A, B and X ration cards issued under the temporary plan which expired at midnight July 21.

Five states reported a total of 1,061,465 "A" coupon books issued, in comparison with 1,173,660 cards of all types distributed under the temporary plan.

If the percentage of reduction continues in 12 other rationed states there will be a further reduction of some 700,000 in the number of cars now being operated, OPA officials explained. Ration cards of all types issued in the 17 states under the temporary plan last May totaled 7,745,381.

CASES FILED

In the office of prothonotary and clerk of courts the following cases have been filed for trial.

Charles Mike Lukenski of the U. S. army asks a divorce from Mary Lubinski, whose last known address was Braddock. They were married June 30, 1938, in New Castle. Desertion is charged.

M. K. Gilliland, agent, files an amicable settlement against James Cooper and Ollie Cooper, his wife.

Willard I. Jones files a suit to recover $61.32 with interest from July 26, 1941, from Nellie K. Leishman, administratrix in the estate of the late S. Katherine Young. It is averred that the plaintiff performed some work as an electric contractor for the deceased in January 1939 which was never paid.

Marian G. McPeaters of 1265 North Cochran way, New Castle, asks a divorce from John O. McPeaters of Grand Rapids, Mich. They were married May 15, 1940, in Mercer. Desertion is charged.

REGISTRATIONS

During the week passed six voters registered as Republican and three registered as Democrats. Some interest is being shown by voters who have not exercised their franchise in the past two years, in getting re-instated.

If you have not voted in the past two years your name will be removed from the registry list unless you reinstate yourself.

AROUND CITY HALL

D. O. Davies, director of city public safety and the head of the city civilian defense organization, is making an inquiry into sirens. Prior to the purchase of any siren that may cost thousands of dollars he proposes to investigate the report that $17.50 sirens, said to have been approved by the OGD in Washington, may be obtained in Pittsburgh.

Surprise blackouts are to be staged in this state. However, it isn't likely any will be staged here without the city having proper warning devices. To do so then arrest persons would not be laudable.

A suggestion also was made to civilian defense officials yesterday that air raid wardens auxiliary police and any others connected with the organization use courtesy in dealing with the public.

The sign of a good officer is courtesy and service and 99 of 100 times it is impossible to enforce law unless both are coupled.

It is not known when the city's proposed new streets department building will be started. It has been discussed time and again. The site on Taylor street has been selected and street officials point out that unless the structure is ready prior to snow fall it will prove costly to haul ashes to sections miles removed.

The city now has ashes. It isn't likely they will be able to secure any ashes locally in the future.

City council chambers are noisy. When matters pertaining to civilian defense are discussed or typewriters used in the OGD office it is impossible to thoroughly hear councilman proceedings and vice versa. The OGD office is a built in section with the top open.

'U. S. Has Crazy Laws, But No Place Like It,' Army Nurse Writes Home

New Castle's first Army nurse to go abroad in World War II thinks there is no place like the United States—even with its crazy laws and strikes and such.

Second Lieut. Agnes J. Keane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Keane, 813 East Washington street, who led the first contingent of American nurses from Fort Knox, Ky., to Ireland some time ago, so expressed herself in a letter to friends.

Well and happy, Miss Keane now is serving as night supervisor at a hospital in northern Ireland—her first night stretch, she said, since the fateful December 7 of last year.

"You have no idea how being away from the land of the Free makes you appreciate and love that country. There's no place to compare with it, with all its strikes, laws, etc. Thank God I'm an American. And how often I've said it and heard others say it over here!

Plenty To Eat, She Says

Miss Keane, who said everyone feels "very much isolated at present," reported that "we get plenty to eat of heavy Army food."

She said the British at first didn't take the American peanut butter, but it was understandable, she said, after they learned why "they'd put it in a dessert dish and eat it with a spoon," she wrote, "and I can understand why it wouldn't be enjoyed that way."

Lieut. Keane told of several serious hospital cases, and of the medical and spiritual care given the stricken soldiers.

Before she became night supervisor she was chief of the nurses' ward and the contagious ward.

Miss Keane's most recent letter, dated June 4, came to close family friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Caslin, 906 East Washington street.

HARDISKY-OLSHANSKY
At a nuptial high mass at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, Miss Florence Hardisky and George Olshansky were united in marriage in St. Michael's church, New Castle.

The exchange of vows was heard by Rev. William M. Piscarik, before an altar decorated with palms and ferns.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white duchess satin gown, made princess style with lace trim and a long train. Her long veil of illusion fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried white roses and staphenotis tied with white streamers, on which were lilies of the valley.

Maid of honor, Miss Mary Lopko, of Plymouth, Pa., cousin of the bride, wore blue marquisette, and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Bridesmaids were Julia Faschette, Leona Bogdon of Plymouth, and Catherine and Helen Olshansky of Pulaski. They were attired in pink marquisette and carried roses.

Joseph Hardisky, Jr., brother of the bride served as best man. Ushers were Clarence Wozniak of St. Carmel, Pa., Leo Ratowski, Steve Olshansky of Sharon, and Mike Kaprinock, Jr. of this place.

Flower girls, Carol Thomas, Cleveland, O., niece of the bride, and Kathleen Marshall of Sharon, niece of the groom, wore white organdy and carried small bouquets of mixed flowers.

In the evening a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for 150 guests.

Mrs. Olshansky is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hardisky, of No. 2 Mine. She is a graduate of Grove City high school, class of 1940, and is employed by the Shenango Pottery in New Castle.

Pole Compares Hitler With Early Teutons

His Contempt For Treaties And Slaughtering Of Thousands Exact Parallels

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 29.—Hitler's expansionist methods can be closely paralleled with those of the early Teutons, according to Heliodor Sztark, consul general of Poland in Pittsburgh.

Consul Sztark donated a pint of his blood to the American Red Cross on July 15—the 532nd anniversary of the battle of Grunwald, a conflict which marked the defeat of the Teutonic order by Poland, Lithuania and Ruthenia.

The tactics of the Teutonic knights who later called themselves Prussians, fathered the methods of today's German leader, he explained, adding that "today as never before, we need another Grunwald."

"Hitler has accepted the traditions of the Teutons," Sztark declared. "There is absolutely no difference between the contempt for treaties and promises or slaughtering thousands of victims by the German knights, and the ways of the Nazis."

Tiny Slot Machines Stump Jersey Cops

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., July 29.—To the perplexed cops of this great hive of war industry, the slot machine racket is taking on something of the proportion of the Auegan stables of mythology.

Hard on the heels of what the Gendarmes believed to have been a very successful cleanup of the mechanical bandits, comes a midge nickel-snatcher, as hard to detect as a Nazi short-wave radio.

All kicked out with cherries, plus and lemons, right on down to the jackpot payoffs, the tiny tin has all the features of its bigger brother—except the odds are considerably heavier against the sucker who plays it.

Cost of the midge machine is about $60 compared with $200 and more for the larger ones.

Air Raid Test Made Tuesday

Civilian Defense Demonstration Is Part Of Golden Jubilee Program

HUGE CROWD SEES WORKERS IN ACTION

ELLWOOD CITY, July 29.—Hundreds of interested Ellwood and district residents jammed the section between Fifth and Sixth streets last night to see the Civilian Defense corps in action, as a part of Ellwood's great Golden Jubilee celebration.

An imaginary air raid was staged, being directed from the control room which was located on a platform on the Sixth street corner. The demonstration was arranged to give the public an opportunity to see the "inside" action that goes on during a blackout.

When the air raid siren shrieked, auxiliary police, air raid wardens, fire watchers swung into action. A minute later the fire department arrived to fight the fire caused by the dropping of imaginary enemy bombs on the Federal Savings and Loan building.

In a few seconds, firemen had the hoses spraying water on the building while other firemen were rescuing people from the building by carrying them down ladders and sliding down ropes. At the same time ambulances arrived followed by medical corps workers who demonstrated their first aid training on the "victims."

The large crowd of spectators were pleased judging by their applause by the manner in which the various units of the defense corps co-ordinated their jobs. Explanation of the action of the various groups was given by communications chairman, W. F. Kegel.

Old-Timers Appear

Adding a note of merriment to the otherwise somber scene was the appearance of a group of Ellwood's firemen who served about 25 years ago. In place of the horses used then, the equipment was pulled by members attired in the popular fireman's garb of the World War era. They lost little time in attaching their hose and getting set for action.

They were presented by William Guthrie, now of Erie, who was chief of the Ellwood department from 1907 to 1914, and who is here for Jubilee week activities. Old-time firemen taking part were: Arnold Young, William Friedhoff, Quigley Bowser, Henry Eicholtz, William Duncan, E. B. Moyer and George Dambach. No fires of any great consequence occurred during the time Guthrie was chief.

Another fire chief of former days attending was H. T. Plante of Los Angeles, Calif., who is visiting here for several weeks. Plante retired in 1937.

Co-ordinator Lowell W. Monroe, borough manager, presided and introduced several guests. Among them were: County commissioners, George Bollinger, W. R. Walton, and J. V. Travers, Frank Hill, Numa F. Ellwood 'Firsts' Recalled By Golden Jubileers

ELLWOOD CITY, July 29.—Additional "firsts" in the early history of Ellwood City, now celebrating its fiftieth anniversary, follow:

The beginning of the commercial life of Ellwood found business houses, as at present, placed mainly on or near Lawrence avenue, although the center of trade was further west than it is now. The three blocks between Sixth and Ninth street comprised the business area.

First Merchants
John Hughes and D. L. Cunningham were the first merchants, and the former also operated a lumber yard where the Solomon Dry Cleaning plant now stands. C. J. Eldredge followed closely and later sold his business to the Cole brothers in Hazel Dell.

Other first stores were those of F. T. Johnston and J. F. Corl, W. C. Weimer, M. S. Hamilton, W. S. Weyand and J. A. Anderson.

George Nye opened the first shoe store in 1891. S. Y. Douds was another early shoe merchant as were Sam Turner and D. H. Munhall. H. S. Blatt and A. C. Grove, in partnership, conducted the first hardware store. W. W. Davidson and S. P. Turner started the first and only stable. In 1892, Davidson entered the feed business and Turner started a livery stable. In 1899 the business was bought by W. W. Seidel who also ran a hack to Rock Point. Until 1939, Mr. Davidson still conducted a feed store being in business longer than any other local merchant.

Came in 1890
One of the oldest residents of the community, A. E. Conner came to Ellwood in 1890. For many years he operated a meat market; then established a clothing store, which he operates today.

C. H. Williams opened the first dry goods store. M. Keller and I. Krause were among the pioneers here in the clothing business.

J. J. Brice was the first tailor. G. S. Young was the second, starting his business in 1893, and has continued since that time.

Mr. Buchanan had the first furniture store and was the first undertaker. Robert A. Todd was the first Ellwood man to represent this district in the state legislature. Charles and Mary Mani had the first confectionery store, in 1892. Mr. Leedham was the town's first jeweler and photographer.

Early Milkmen
Early milkmen should also be mentioned. In their wagons they carried the milk in large cans and bottles, and housewives had their bottles and pans filled from the large cans. Cowden Weller was the first milkman, and others following closely were Melvin Hazen, Mr. McHattie, John Scheidmante and Mathias Strohecker.

The above list of early merchants has been as inclusive as possible up to 1894. The establishment of these businesses marked the growing commercial life and the physical development of the business. In succeeding years many changes have been made. The automobile industry opened a new field of enterprise, with Charles Lambert, who died a few weeks ago, operating the town's first garage.

Lone Gunner Waits for Sub

Standing by his gun on the stern of a merchantman after the ship had been hit by a torpedo in the Caribbean, this U. S. Navy gunner scans the sea hoping for a shot at the Axis rattlesnake. The rest of the crew had abandoned ship and he kept his lonely vigil until the sub sent another torpedo at the stricken boat. He spotted the wake and jumped just in time to save his skin. The ship's stern was blown off by the second hit. This is a photo. (Central Press)

Navy Enlists Six To Crack Record

July Recruiting Record Due To Real Patriotism According to Navy
Chief

Six men enlisted in the United States Navy today, five of them from New Castle. Chief D. C. Ritchie, officers in charge of the New Castle recruiting station in the post office announced. The new recruits raise the total for the New Castle Navy recruiting station for the month of July to 59, breaking all existing records.

Recruits Listed

The new recruits include Ernest V. Adamo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Adamo, 216 S. Cedar street; Joseph E. Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walters, 512 Cascade street; Albert C. Wheale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Wheale, 907 Franklin street; Walter T. Severa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Severa, R. D. 2, Megan avenue; Robert S. Mars, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram E. Mars, R. D. 7, Mahoningtown and Roman H. Feroz, 390 Seneca street, Oil City.

Enlist For Patriotic Reasons
The extraordinary number of recruits for this month seems to be due to a number of things according to Chief Ritchie. "First, the navy has lowered their physical standards, then, the draft boards have been calling a lot of them and that always gives us some recruits but the biggest reason is, in my opinion at least, that New Castle men have begun to realize that we are in a fight for our lives and are volunteering in greater numbers because of patriotic reasons. That's the way I see it," Ritchie concluded.

The previous record was established in January, 1942, when patriotism was at white hot heat and many were volunteering in a fit of passion and so was not remarkable. But to establish a record like this after seven months of war, when men have had time to cool down and think is something for New Castle to be proud of.

Atlantic City Different Now

With all its boardwalk hotels, except two or three, now taken over by the army, with large numbers of soldiers on the boardwalk, noticeably fewer vacationing civilians, and the famous auctions of this popular resort city seem a far different place than usual at this season of the year, according to two local travelers recently returned home from there.

"Atlantic City just isn't the same—and the hotel we were stopping at was taken over by the army three days after we arrived," is the report given by Mrs. J. F. Genkinger of Butler avenue who, with her daughter Miss Barbara Genkinger, cut a vacation in Atlantic City short when the Shelbourne hotel was taken over for army use.

Dodger N. L. Lead Is Still 7 Games

Rivals Split Twin Bill Tuesday, Pittsburgh Continues Losing Spree, 4-3

GIANTS, CINCINNATI ADD UP TWIN WINS

(International News Service) NEW YORK, July 29.—The Brooklyn Dodgers still were seven games out in the National League pennant race today when one game to go against the second place St. Louis Cardinals in their "crucial" series at Ebbets Field.

Whether the Dodgers will emerge from the three-game tussle leading by eight games or by only six will be determined in the final twilight engagement. The Cards were expected to send Mort Cooper after his 13th win against four defeats and John Whitlow Wyatt was scheduled to seek his 12th victory against three defeats for the Dodgers.

In yesterday's series opening double-header the Dodgers capitalized on six unearned runs—five of them in the first inning—to take the first game, 9 to 6, then blew the nightcap, 9 to 1, when the Cards staged a seven-inning uprising in the seventh.

Johnny Rizzo's eighth inning, one-run homer settled the issue in the opening tilt after the teams had tussled to a 6-6 deadlock. Victory and defeat went to relief hurlers. Curt Davis taking the win over Howard Pollet.

Lanier Easy Winner
Max Lanier led the Dodgers to six hits in the second game to win easily behind his mates' 16-hit attack that caused Kirby Hagar to be sent to the showers charged with the loss.

Cincinnati and New York meantime won double headers, the Reds beating the Philadelphia Phillies, 8 to 1 and 3 to 1, while the Giants were defeating the Chicago Cubs, 9 to 5 and 3 to 0.

Johnny Vander Meer was nipped for a home run by Stan Benjamin on his first pitch in the Reds' first game with the Phils, before he settled down to allow only one hit the rest of the way to win easily. Ray Starr won a five-hitter for the Reds in the nightcap.

Carl Hubbell struggled to victory in the opener for the Giants, then Hal Schumacher hurled a three-hitter to top the nightcap.
The Boston Braves nosed out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4 to 3, with a run in the ninth when, with the bags loaded, third baseman Bob Elliott juggled Nanny Fernandez' double-play grounder, to let in the winning run.

The New York Yankees maintained the 12½ game lead in the American League by defeating the Chicago White Sox, 8 to 3, prior to the second place Boston Red Sox night victory over the Cleveland Indians, 3 to 1.

Ernie Borham won his 11th victory for the Yanks, while Dobson, a former Indian, won his seventh for the Sox, who made it two straight over the Tribe.
In the only other game, the Washington Senators beat the St. Louis Browns, 9 to 4, despite seven errors by the winners.

Lions Golf Matches Enter Second Round

Thirty Members Competing In Preliminary Championship Play

Between 25 and 30 members of the New Castle Lions club this week will move into the second round of elimination matches of the club's 1942 golf tournament. Edwin C. Wilson, tournament chairman, reported today.

The elimination matches, scheduled every Wednesday evening at the Castle Hills course, will end in final championship matches sometime late in August. The club champion will receive a trophy.
Arthur W. Meek won the golf crown in 1941 and John B. Waddington was winner in 1940.

These Foul Balls Are Expensive In Patriotic Manner

(International News Service) ATLANTA, Ga., July 29.—Atlanta baseball fans are going to have a chance to "cash in" on foul balls for the remainder of the 1942 season.

President Earl Mann of the Atlanta club today announced that henceforth baseballs will be stamped and will be valued at from 25 cents to $50.

"We will have a $50 bond ball in play at every game and the other amounts will vary, running from the smallest stamp," Mann said in announcing that fans returning foul balls to the business office could exchange them for whatever the stamp called for in war bonds and stamps.

Previously, fans have been given free tickets to future games for returning foul balls.

Steelers To Begin Drills On August 10

(International News Service) HERSHY, Pa., July 29.—The Pittsburgh Steelers, National Professional Football League eleven, will train at Hershey, it was announced today by Bert Hall, who made arrangements for his team of 35 men to arrive on August 10 for three weeks practice.
The men will be housed in the dormitory of the Hershey Park golf club and will work out daily on the football practice field at the east end of the Hershey stadium.

SAYS JURGES BEST
NEW YORK—Larry French of the Dodgers calls the Bill Jurgens of 1935 the best shortstop he ever saw. Both were then with the Cubs.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Sonny Horne, former amateur fighter of Niles who was popular here, is scheduled to battle Frankie Britt Thursday night in Youngstown. It will be Sonny's first pro fight in his home town vicinity since he swapped his amateur status for that of a professional. Since journeying east, he has enjoyed considerable success against boys in his class. Among others on the card will be Billy Reale, the Castlewood farmer, who will toss aside amateurism for professionalism. Not long ago Russell Baxter left the amateurs. He also is scheduled for action Thursday night.

Tommy Leach will not be with either Baxter or Reale. Just who will handle them is unknown. Tommy handled Baxter until a few weeks ago when a Connecticut Lake hotel keeper, who dabbles in boxing as a side-line, got hold of Baxter. Since then Baxter has fought only once and tomorrow night's encounter will be his second since leaving the man who handled him during his first pugilistic days. And now that Russell and Billy are in the pros, where there are many pitfalls, yet which conquered, mean a pot of gold. Let us wish them success.

Gus Dorazio and Melio Bettina did not box in Philadelphia because of bad weather last night. The bout has been shelved. Jack Dempsey, lieutenant, if you please, has 32 assistants at his coast guard training quarters, Manhattan Beach. Reports claim he is doing a good job and is making coast guardsmen as tough as a leather boot. 1,800 of them there receive athletic training every day. It fits em for rough work at close quarters. In World War I, Johnny Kilbane was an athletic instructor at Camp Sherman.

Tonight is a good time to drop a letter to a boy in service. Nothing is as refreshing to a boy in the armed service after a hard day of drill and work as a newsy letter with cheerful notes. They have given up everything to do something for us, so why not give up a few minutes time for them?

Mart Moots, Jr., Canton, is the new Canton district amateur golf champion. Al Schacht has quit baseball and Frankie Kovacs, tennis player, has joined the army. The army has taken over the huge city auditorium in Atlantic City. A 16-days running meet got under way today at Ascot, near Akron. It is a three-quarters of a mile track.

Fannins Win From Strong Gus' Team

Fannins nosed out the strong Gus team, who were in the finals of the first half in their game at Lehigh field Tuesday evening, by a score of 3-2, which went an extra-inning before a decision was reached. Young winning the contest with a single to center.
Ciccone of the losers made a desperate bid to win his own game, socking a double and homer. Hankins had a double for Fannins while Mills and Shehady collected two apiece.

This evening the Fannins play the North Hill Ramblers on Washington field.

W. Pittsburg, Moose City Loop Leaders

"Gashouse Gang" Blanks Croton A. C. 5-0; Moose Nine Drubbs Slovaks 7 To 2

ELLWOOD TIPS ELDER; INDIES WIN FIRST, 2-1

West Pittsburg and the Moose today lead the City Baseball league second half caravan.
With Eddie Van Dusan pitching spectacularly, West Pittsburg rose to the top by blanking Croton, 5-0, at West Pittsburg. In no inning did the losers have more than one hit.

Two double plays, Tonsiet to "Chazz" Marky to DeMonaco, cut short Croton rallies. The triumph was the fourth out of five games for the "Gashouse Gang." Croton left the top and joined the won 3 and lost 2 crowd.

Razzano Stars
Led by the mighty bat of Razzano, who rapped a homer, a double and a single, the Moose club kept pace with West Pittsburg by drubbing the Slovaks, 7-2, on Cedar street grounds.

While his mates garnered 11 hits, Razzano limited the south enders to only a half dozen blows. Alex Orlando was credited with two hits for the first-half champs. Guinbaugh, Chabala and Koszela rang up doubles for the losers.

In the most exciting tussle of the evening, Ellwood City added a 2-1 victory at the expense of the Elders on Marshall field.
"Lefty" Majors, the pint-sized Elder twirler, turned in a four-inning while McCready, another upcoming flinger, was tapped seven times. Ellwood pushed across its first marker in the opening canto. The deciding run was added in the seventh by Friedhoff and D'Angelo counted doubles for the winners.

The outcome left the rivals deadlocked in the standing with two wins and three losses apiece.
The last place Lawrence Indies came up with the top performance, defeating Bessemer 2-1 at Bessemer. Nickum took over the mound chores for the Indies and gave up a half dozen hits, the same number as released by Caldaro.

Tropea bashed out a double for Bessemer, the only extra-base blow. This marked the Indies' first success in five games. Bessemer sports a won two and lost three record this far.

FAIR or FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 29.—Ray Robinson is probably the third best Negro fighter to come along in recent years. Only Joe Louis and Henry Armstrong rank ahead of him.

The gangling rug-cutting Harlemite in the sharp clothes has compiled what some historians insist is the longest unbroken winning streak of all times. He is unwhipped in 121 starts—89 as an amateur and 32 as a professional, and is the top contender for the welterweight championship. All he needs to win the title is a crack at it, which he may not get before the Army grabs him.

Sammy Angott Next

On Friday night he will encounter Slamin' Sammy Angott, the lightweight champion, in an over-the-weight 10-rounder which may do two things: (1) Bring a surprising end to that winning streak and the aura of invincibility around Robinson and (2) Make Angott's severest critics admit that he can fight.

Robinson will be the choice and the odds may be one-sided, but Angott stands about as good a chance as anybody to upset the local favorite. He's a tough and game young man and so utterly unorthodox that supposedly better fighters shake their heads in bewilderment and curse him in despair. The Harlemite may win just as easily as the odds say he should but he probably will have his hands full, barring a quick knockout that will rid him of the pestiferous little citizen from Washington, Pa., before the latter can get warmed up for his wings and lungs.

His sham-bank flailing has carried him along to an unbeaten record against lightweights since 1930, and the only two decisions he has dropped since then were to welters—Fritzie Zivic and this same Robinson.

The latter beat Angott a year ago and has come on since then to be recognized as the uncrowned welter king.

Since 'nen Angott has won the lightweight championship, successfully defended it and whipped all comers at his weight.

Highlight of Angott's battling is a cluster of three victories over the highly-touted Bob Montgomery, Philadelphia welterweight, whom Angott beat twice in Montgomery's home town and once here, and beat twice despite broken hands.

Can Lose Prestige
Regardless of the outcome, Angott can't lose anything but prestige, in case Robinson makes this victory No. 122, for no title is at stake, and Angott will sandwich in one more over-the-weight watch—or perhaps two—then defend the title against the best man available, probably Allie Stolz for the second time.

Although he's a family man, has been fighting a long time and now is beginning to approach 30, the dangerous age for fighters, he may be the champ for the duration. His record shows he's better than some would have you believe.

KLEIN QUALIFIED

PHILADELPHIA—If experience counts, Chuck Klein is just the man to stand in the Navy's box and tell the Phil basemen what to do next. The former National league home run king, now Uncle John Lobert's righthand man in the coaching department of the Phils, holds the 20th century National league record for runs scored in one season, his 158 in 1930. "Sliding Billy" Hamilton, of the 1894 Phils, holds the all-time major league record, 196, but since 1900 no player in any season of senior circuit competition has crossed the dish as often as Chuck did for the '30 Phils.

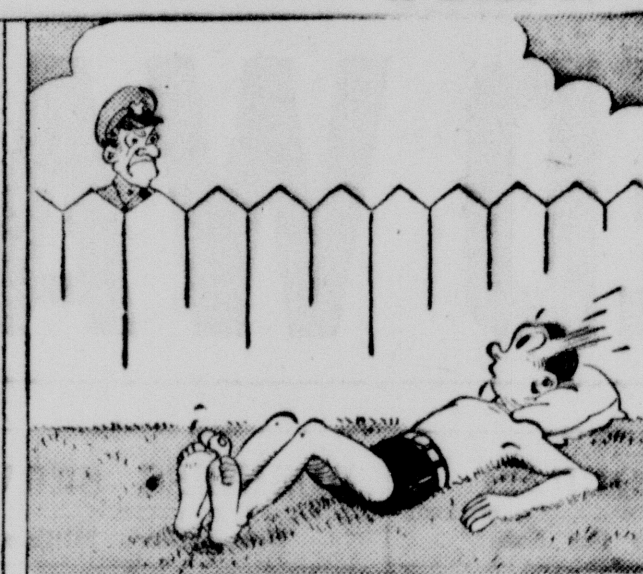

HELPED OUT

IOWA CITY—Lieut. Wesley Brown helped revise the Navy's course in judo while attending the Annapolis indoctrination course for physical instructors. Formerly Northwestern's wrestling coach, Lieutenant Brown is now at the Iowa pre-flight school.

Stock Market Slightly Lower

Prices Slip A Little After Somewhat Mixed Opening

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 29.—The stock market slipped fractions to more than a point today after a somewhat mixed opening.

Trading was a little more active. First-hour sales totaled 85,200 shares vs. 60,300 shares in the same period yesterday.

Contributing to the soft undertone were the second-quarter results of U. S. Steel Corp., showing a deficit of 4 cents a common share vs. earnings of $2.12 a share in the 1941 period.

Also a factor was the weakness in Standard Oil of N. J. and Standard Oil of California on word books of 100,000 shares each would be offered off the market after the close today. Jersey dropped more than a point, while California lost almost as much.

U. S. Steel gave up 7 1/2 to 47 1/2 before meeting support. Bethlehem, which reports on second quarter earnings tomorrow, slipped 5/8 to 52 1/2.

Allied Chemical fell 1 1/2 points to 132 1/2, on a single sale, while Douglas Aircraft dropped 1 1/2 to 58 1/2.

Fractional declines were incurred by Chrysler, General Motors, Kenecott, General Electric, American Telephone, Du Pont, United Aircraft, Montgomery Ward, U. S. Rubber, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Consolidated Edison and International Harvester.

A handful of stocks bucked the downward trend. Loew's advanced 3/4 to 43 1/2, and Lorillard was up 1/2 to 16 1/2, both new highs for the year. Pullman, Celanese and Twentieth Century-Fox were behind plus signs through most of the morning.

State Grain Crops Larger Than 1941

Corn, Wheat And Barley
Crops Lead Increase;
Peach, Cherry Yields Down

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 29.—Larger yields per acre will increase the total production of all Pennsylvania grain and hay crops over that of 1941, the department of agriculture said.

The corn crop, covering 1,308,000 acres or 2 per cent more than last year, is expected to have the greatest production increase of the grain. The yield per acre, the department indicated, will be 43 bushels compared with 41.5 bushels in 1941. Total production will be 56,244,000 bushels or approximately 6,224,000 bushels more than the average for the past 10 years.

More Wheat This Year
Despite a 5 per cent decrease in acreage, total production from the state's wheat crop is expected to be 382,000 bushels more than the 167,712,000 bushels harvested in 1941. The yield per acre will advance from 19.5 bushels last year to an indicated yield of 21 bushels for the coming harvest.

Having the same acreage as in 1941 and with only a half bushel advance in the indicated yield per acre, the oats crop is expected to have only a slight increase in total production. The production this year is placed at 30,660,000 bushels compared with 30,222,000 bushels in 1941 and an average of 26,404,000 for the previous 10 years.

Barley Has Greatest Increase
The greatest increases in all respects, however, are expected for the state's barley crop. The acreage has risen 7 per cent from 139,000 acres last year and the previous 10 years average of 70,000 acres to 149,000 acres. The indicated yield per acre is 31.5 bushels compared with 26 bushels last year and the previous 10 year average of 26.5 bushels, while the indicated total production is 4,694,000 bushels.

Although Pennsylvania's peach and cherry crops are expected to show large decreases this year compared with 1941 yields, the state pear, grape and apple crops will top last year's production, Secretary of Agriculture John H. Light revealed.

Peach, Cherry Crops Decline
The peach crop will total 1,595,000 bushels compared with the production last year of 1,845,000 bushels, while the cherry crop, which produced 9,800 tons in 1941, is expected to yield only 8,700 tons during the current season.

A total of 428,000 bushels of pears will be yielded or approximately 73,000 bushels more than last year. The grape crop is expected to produce a total of 18,800 tons compared with 13,500 tons and the apple crop, although no figures are yet available on expected yields, is now 63 per cent of normal compared with 60 per cent at the same time last year.

Father-Son Combo Set To Slap Japs

(International News Service)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 29.—The little men of the Rising Sun are going to find an unusual two-man fighting team facing them if Robert Hinderlider, World War I veteran, is able to get to Hickam Field, Hawaii, where his son, Robert, Jr., has been stationed for several years.

Inducted just a short time, Pvt. Hinderlider, Sr., thinks this new army is better than the last, likes his present duties, but wants to get over there with his boy—so that they can "go over the top together."

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—A new title—"Pittsburgh's leading blood-donor"—was conferred upon Mrs. Paul Forest, who has given her blood for the allied cause five times in less than a year.

"I've never felt any ill effects," declared Mrs. Forest, as she bared her arm at Red Cross headquarters. "There is nothing to it."

Her first four blood contributions were made in Baltimore where she worked until May 1 as a Red Cross staff assistant.

Plan to Keep Cars Running

Pictured in Washington are members of a committee of directors of the Rubber Manufacturers Association with display showing a retreaded tire made of part new rubber, part scrap and part synthetic materials. They told officials that they had a plan perfected, if they could obtain a small part of scrap, synthetic and new rubber stockpiles, to provide 48,174,000 tires and keep everybody's car running for the next two years.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 29.—Death dogged the steps of Governor James during his incumbency in office. While attending the funeral of Moses L. Annenberg, Philadelphia publisher and a staunch supporter of the governor's policies, the chief executive received word of the sudden death of his insurance commissioner, Matthew H. Taggart, at his Northumberland home. Scarcely 12 hours earlier he had filled a vacancy on his cabinet caused by the death of another cabinet official last year, Dr. John J. Shaw, secretary of health.

Four of James' kin have died since he began his administration in January 1939. The hardest blow was the death of his only son, Arthur, Jr., 20, who died in a Boonville, Mo., hospital following an appendectomy. Only a few months earlier the governor's mother-in-law, whom he affectionately termed "Mon," had died. The twin brother of Miss Dorothy James, the governor's daughter, died in infancy. Many of his close friends have also passed away during his administration.

With scarcely more than five months remaining of his administration, Governor James still has

Milk Supply Depends On Amount Of Grain

Cow's Productive Capacity Goes Up As Amount Of Grain Eaten Increases

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, July 29.—The nation will not need to worry about its milk supply during wartime if it can furnish the dairymen with enough grain, according to Prof. Andrew A. Borland, head of the department of dairy husbandry at the Pennsylvania State college.

As long as feed grains are plentiful, a large increase of milk production from the nation's dairy herds is possible, whenever conditions demand it, Professor Borland said.

It was shown by experimentation at the college that the more grain that a dairy cow can be induced to eat, the more milk she will give. Full grain feeding was found to be in no way injurious to dairy animals if they were managed carefully.

Experimental work similar to that conducted at Penn State was carried on simultaneously at nine other experimental stations in cooperation with the bureau of agricultural economics and dairy industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A chart, determining the most economical amount of grain to provide dairy cows under various grain and milk price relationships, was published by the college agricultural experiment station and is free upon request.

Under prices prevailing in Pennsylvania in March, a normal allowance of grain, according to the Haacker feeding standard, was most profitable. Good summer pastures have cut down the grain necessity, Professor Borland said.

Lost—8,000 Gal. Of H2O At Penn State

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, July 29.—The mystery of 8,000 gallons of H2O (water to non-scientists) which disappeared from a tank mysteriously disappeared from the Pennsylvania State college.

This miniature flood disappeared suddenly from the cistern tank, 10 feet square and 10 feet high, in the hydraulics laboratory in the basement. Containing 15,000 gallons, the tank mysteriously became half-empty one night. There was no possibility of a leak.

James R. Vilemonte, in charge of the laboratory, said that either students drained the water for a prank or the water ran uphill to a constant level tank. In either case, he said, the water's hideout has not been discovered.

A group of 100 will replace the graduates, who will leave at once for an unknown destination.
